FIERCE ATTACKS OF THE GERMANS

Allies Hold Solidly Against Continuous Pounding of Their Lines.

ROAR OF HEAVY GUNS

British Warships Again Supporting Left Wing—Ypres Said to Have Been Reduced to Ashes.

Paris, Nov. 10—The allied lines today are holding solidly against a fierce, continuous attack of the Germans in the vicinity of Yres. At the war office it is declared the enemy is bringing tremendous pressure to bear in what would seem to ba a supreme effort to crush the allied defense. Ypres is in flames. The roar of big guns is incessant as the Germans keep up a constant artillery fire under cover of which the infantry assaults are made upon the British and French trenches.

British warships are again reported to be supporting the allied left wing.

In the determined attack being made by the Germans, Ypres is declared to have been reduced to a mass of ruins. Not a single inhabitant remains in the town. Public buildings have been sent crashing down before the shells of the attacking forces. The cathedral of St. Martin is reported badly damaged.

There is little doubt that the fighting about Ypres, which has been in progress almost constantly for nearly two weeks may prove the most deadly of the war to date. Heavy losses have been suffered by the British and French from the German shell fire and owing to the repeated assaults made by the Germans their losses are much greater. The Germans continue to attack in massed formations endeavoring to carry the allied trenches by sheer force of numbers.

ASKED TO BE LOCKED UP

Protest Against Arrests Results in Their Ejection.

New York, Nov. 10—Alexander Berkman and Becky Edelson led a score of anarchists into a police station early yesterday to protest against the arrest a short time before of four of their number—Helen Goldblatt, known as "Helen of Troy" her sister Lillian, William Shatoff and Abraham Blecker. The quartet were taken into suctody after a free-for all fight in the street between a band of anarchists and five policemen.

In the station house one of the five policemen identified Berkman as the man who had tried to wrest away his night stick during the fight. Berkman was arrested. His companions thereupon demanded that they too, be locked up. The reserves were called and cleared the station house of Berkman's followrs.

Berkmen was charged with resisting an officer; the four other prisoner with disorderly conduct.

THREE SHOT IN GUNFIGHT.

One Killed And One Dying in Little Rock.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 10.—In a fight with shotguns, which arose over a dispute regarding the payment of rent, P. B. Arnold, 63, a wealthy planter of Germania, Saline county, and a former deputy sheriff, was shot and killed yesterday. His son, Thomas, was wounded, probably fatally, and J. W. Dickinson was wounded severely. Rickinson surrendered to the sheriff and was charged with murder.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Secretary Bryan, back at the State Depaftment yesterday after his campaign trip West, issued a formal statement summarizing the results of the elections and declaring that they could not be considered otherwise than as an endorsement of President Wilson and his politics. Pointing to the slump of the Progressive vote as the outstanding feature of the election returns, Mr. Bryan said this had resulted in no change in the leadership of the regular Republican ranks; that Senator Penrose and former Speaker Cannon would represent their party in Congress, and the Progressives returning to that party would have to accept all they had protested against and more.

The London Daily Mail gives prominence to an estimate of a distinguished French officer, whose name it says, cannot be divulged, but who is in a position to make such an estimate, that the Germans will not be driven back over the Rhine until February, 19.6, and that peace will not be concluded before 1917 at which time the allies will meet in Berlin.

Portugal probably will declare war against Germany. In an official announcement made in Lisbon yesterday it was stated that if Portugal joins the war, German and Austrian vessels now in Portugese ports will remain under protection of Portugal until the end of the conflict.

Since the fall of the German position at Tsingtau, the question of Japan's sending an army to Europe has begun to attract increasing attention. The idea finds considerable support in military circles in Tokyo.

The final meeting between Japanese and German military representatives to arrang the details for the surrender of Kiaochow to the allies was held yesterday morning. The commander of the British forces which assisted in the reduction of the fortress of Tsingtau agreed to any conditions which suited the Japanese. The Japanese will take possession of Kiaochow today and will probably repair the forts which the Germans were compelled to surrender.

Announcement was made in Tokyo yesterday by Premier Okuma that Emperor Yoshihito has donated $25,000 toward the foundation of St. Luke's Hospital in Tokyo, which will be conducted by the Episcopal Church mission. The announcement was made at a luncheon attended by fifty of Tokyo's prominent citizens and aroused unusual interest, owing to the fact that the donation goes to a Christian institution. It was explained by the premier that the gift is intended to solidify international understanding.

Several British Dreadnoughts are racing under forced draft to the Pacific coast to join the Japanese squadron and ferret out the German cruisers that defeated Admiral Craddock's fleet off the Chilean coast last week. It is believed the battleships will use the Panama Canal in their voyage to the Pacific, thereby saving the time and coal that would be consumed by a trip round Cape Horn.

The British cruiser Glasgow, which was engaged with the German squadron in battle off the Chilean coast Sunday, November 1, and the British transport Otranto, have passed Delgada Point light, in the Straits of Magellan, bound for the Falkland Islands, a British possession to the east of the extreme southern point of South America.

After three years of suffering Orear Eversole, twelve years old, of Frankfrt, Ky., is dead as a result of injuries received at the hands of his playmates, who used him as the victim to be burned at the stake in the reproduction of an moving picture which they had witnessed. The lad's companions represented themselves to be Indians and young Eversole as a pioneer. He was tied to the stake in the old State House yard, leaves were piled around him and set on fire. The youngsters danced a war dance while the flames crept close to young Eversole, and before he could be rescued he was badly burned. His injuries caused blindness, and later he lost his mind.

GERMAN SCOURGE IS DESTROYED

Cruiser Emden, Terror of British Shipping in Pacific is No More.

SUNK BY THE SYDNEY

British Warship Chatham Chases Protected Cruiser Konigsberg Into Rufigi Island, East Africa.

London, Nov. 10—The German cruiser Emden, which has been one of the terrors of the British shipping interest in the Pacific, has been destroyed by the English warship Sydney. The admiralty announces today that the Emden has been driven ashore on Cocos Island and burned to the water's edge.

The Cocos Island, known as the Keeling group, are in the Indian Ocean, 500 miles southwest of Java.

The Sydney, which finally ran down the Emden after a chase which has lasted for several days, is a part of the Australian navy.

It is presumed that it was the Sydney which located the Emden only a few days ago and sank one of her storeships and captured another.

The fleet German vessel escaped, however, showing a clean pair of heels to the British vessel.

The Emden's most notable feat was her raid into Penang harbor, where she sank a Russian cruiser and French destroyer.

The Emden, which had been dubbed by the English "the German Scourge" had established an enviable reutation. Darting about the Indian Ocean, seemingly without definite aim, the cruiser has been a source of terror to the allied shipping interest.

Scores of vessels have been overtaken by the German ship and forced to give up their cargoes. Many merchant vessels have been sent to the prize court, others have been sunk.

Nothing had been heard of the Emden since the exploit at Penang.

The Emden had a speed of 24.7 knots. She was 386 feet long and her armor belt was from two to eight inches in thickness.

The Sydney has a speed of 24.7 knots. Her armament consists of 8 6-inch guns, four 3-pounders, and 2 21-inch torpedo tubes.

London, Nov. 10—The admiralty announced to day that the British warship Chatham had chased the German protected cruiser Konigsberg into port in Rufigi Island, off German East Africa. The admiralty said the Konigsberg probably had been driven aground.

COURT BARS STRIKE ORDER

Unions Restrained From Calling a Walkout on Cotton Belt Railway.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Three railway brotherhoods were restrained by the Circuit Court yesterday from calling a strike on the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway.

The injunction was directed against the officers of the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The injunction was granted at the request of six unoin men who claimed that the strike order was issued after some of the men who had voted in favor of a strike had asked that their votes be changed.

PAULDING FLOATED UNHURT

U. S. Torpedo Destroyer Pulled From Sand in Lynnhaven Bay.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 10—The United States torpedo destroyer, which went ashore in Lynnhaven Inlet in the early morning of Tuesday, October 26, was sucessfully floated by Merrit and Chaman wreckers yesterday.

First examination of the vessels indicates that her hull is in good condition and she is seaworthy.

HOLDS FATHER'S FATE.

Young Husband Shot by Irate Parent.

New York, Nov. 10—"My husband is dead and nothing can bring him back to me—but I can protect his memory.

"But if I do that I have to send my father to the electric chair; think what a tragic situation!

"My father killed my husband, shot him as my poor Gene started to draw our marriage certificate from his pocket to show him that we were married.

"And now they say that only my testimony can save father from a shameful death. Oh, I hope I am not called to testify at the trial. For even to defend my dead husband I can't send my father to the electric chair."

So over and over again little Anna Maria Cleary Newman states her terrible problem. Girl bride of a week, she was made a widow last July by a bullet fired by her father, William C. Cleary, town clerk and political boss of Haverstraw, N. Y.

Young Newman had gone to announce his marriage to his newly made father-in law and Cleary shot him after asking him to take a chair.

The defense he offered at the time of his arrest was that Newman had betrayed the girl he afterwards married.

The case which is soon to be tried will test the value of the unwritten law as a defense in New York State. Friends of Cleary assert that young Newman was an idler and that he would have made the girl he married very unhappy. They have said that she realized in one brief week of wedded life that she had made a mistake, and that she will do her utmost to save her father from the consequences of his act.

This the young widow denies. She is a slender girl with big, wide blue eyes that are now are blue pools of sorrow. She was a year older than the man she married and he was eighteen when he died. But she looks even less than her nineteen years in the little black satin dress with its turn-over white collar and cuffs which she wore when she discussed her terrible problem.

"I can't allow my father to die! Yet I can't blacken my husband's memory to save him," she exclaimed "I have never regretted that I married Gene. We loved each other devotedly and I know that he could have become a successful man if he had lived.

"He had no job when we were married, but he wanted to work for me and if it had not been for my father's terrible act I am sure we should have been very happy.

"But father thought he knew what was best for me! He would never brook any opposition to his will and when I dared to love as he thought, unwisely, he lost his head. At least I want to think so and that he really did not know what he was doing when he shot my husband.

"Don't ask me if I have forgiven my father. I have not seen him since the terrible tragedy. I am not hard-hearted. But I simply cannot bring myself to look at my husband's murderer. And I cannot forget. So I hope I will not be called to testify!"

FOREST FIRES CRACK HILLS

Boulders Sent Crashing Down Into Roads by Intense Heat.

Harper's Ferry, W. Va. Nov 10—Foorest fires have broken out with greater fury since yesterday's rain in the Blue Ridge Mountains The intense heat has loosened many boulders and some have crashed down the mountain sides, narrowly missing motorists and others driving near the turnpikes. One man driving near Harpers Ferry heard a rumbling noise and, looked up, saw a rock larger than a hogshead rolling down. It struck the rear of his wagon just as the driver leaped to safety. Red signals are displayed, warning travelers of danger.

OPEN OUTBREAKS IN MEXICO CITY

Believed That the Capital Will Soon Be at the Mercy of Mobs.

PEOPLE LEAVE CITY.

Chaotic Conditions—Mob Threatens National Bank—Reported Landing of Americans at Acapulco.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 10—Mob rule is imminent in Mexico City. Open outbreaks of anarchical nature and signs of unusual violence by crowds of constitutionalists are spreading terror, according to political refugees reaching here today.

One of these reports said that a mob had threatened the National Bank of Mexico in the course of a demonstraion. Other reports, which are not given credence, state that the bank has been sacked.

Refugees of many political complexions are leaving the capital, as none seem to have any faith in their security in the present chaotic conditions.

Copies of Mexico City newspapers received here show that Carranza still controls the metropolitan press. In these papers and on hand bills distributed throughout the capital copies of which were brought here today, are violent denunciations of the action of the Aguas Calientes convention in demanding that Carranza step down in favor of Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez.

General Gutierrez has carried out his program and today proclaimed himself provisional President of the republic. The proclamation includes the announcement of the cabinet which Gutierrez appointed shortly after the generals at Aguas Calientes determined on him to assume the chair of Diaz, Madero, Huerta and Carranza.

American military authorities here today claimed they had no knowledge of the reported landing of United States marines at Acapulco on the Pacific coast.

CANDIDATE SEEKING HEAVEN

Defeated for Congress, Now Keeping Pledge He Made to Wife.

Washington, D. C. Nov 10—A promise to his wife to stay at home more at night and to prepare for the next world, was the only pledge made by Jax M. Hunberry, defeated Progressive candidate for Congress from the first Kentucky district. Mr. Hunberry filed his report here today showing he neither received nor spent a cent.

"The only promise I made any living human being during the whole of my campaign" read the affiadvit "was to my wife, whom I did promise that I would be with her at least as much or more after the election as prior thereto, and I did give her a little friendly advice, which was this: That we both pray earnestly to get to Heaven, as there was absolutely no danger of us having to go to Washington."

PATHETIC SCENE

Young Woman Shot by Lover Sings Hymn While Dying.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10—Jennie E. McLaughlin, the sixteen-year-old girl who was shot by her former sweetheart on Saturday night died yesterday in the Methodist Hospital. The end came in one of the most dramatic scenes that the nurses and physicians at the hospital have ever witnessed.

Just before 11 o'clock this morning a doctor told the patient that she could not live. Her mother who had been at the bedside almost constantly since the shooting, began to weep, but the young girl smiled and told her mother not to be unhappy.

"I am going to a better world," she said, smiling, "and I wish you were coming with me. I am not unhappy and I have nothing to tell. The only thing that I want to do before I go is to sing my favorite hymn."

She then lay back on her pillow and started to sing "Nearer My God, to Thee." The dctor and nurses and other patients in the ward were silent as the girl sang the first two stanzas. In the middle of the third her voie became weak and then stopped. A few minutes later she was dead.

One of those who heard the death song was James Fraley, 20 years old, the youth who fired the fatal shot and then sent a bullet into his own stomach. He was lying in a critical condition in another ward.

COMMUTERS COMPLAIN

Many Passengers Compelled to Stand Upon Platforms of Cars in Returning From Washington

The schedule which went into effect on the electric railway between Alexandria and Washington this month has caused considerable inconvenience and discomfort generally to the many residents of this city whose occupations compel them to go to Washington daily. From 4:30 o'clock until six in the evening there is a veritable congestion, the trains which are run between those hours being densely packed, so much so that some passengers are compelled to stand upon the platforms of cars on their way to their homes, and this, too, after many have spent the day upon their feet in stores and in other occupations. Some of those forced to stand are females, and during cold weather this is especially distressing.

After four o'clock in the afternoon there is somewhat of an exodus from Washington on the part of those whose homes are in Alexandria, and after rushing to the station to find every seat occupied and the platforms crowded is depressing, to say the least.

A similar state of affairs existed some years ago, and so eager were certain commuters to secure seats on the trains at that time that they climbed into windows when they found it impossible to make their way through the doors. In some cases females had to make their entry through windows.

The electric railway between Alexandria and the capital city is a great convenience and is justly appreciated by the traveling public, but those who patronize it early and late daily would rejoice to see the schedule so arranged as to lessen, at least, the conditions now prevailing.

Annexation Case is Now Before the Supreme Court of Appeals in Richmond.

The suit of the city of Alexandria city against the counties of Alexandria and Fairfax to secure approximately one square mile of additional territory to be annexed to the city is being argued today before the Supreme Court of Appeals in Richmond.

The case comes before the Supreme Court on an appeal of the city from the decision of Judge Bennett T. Gordon, of Nelson county, who after a hearing in the Circuit Court of Alexandria county, held eighteen months ago, decided that Alexandria city did not need any additional territory for its legitimate needs.

It will require several days to argue the case before the Supreme Court and it is expected that a decision will be rendered for several months.

Alexandria City is represented by Attorneys Samuel G. Brent, John M. Johnson, and Samuel P. Fisher, Alexandria County by Attorneys Crandall Mackey, Andrew Jackson Montague and R. L. Montague and Fairfax county, by C. Vernon Ford and John S. Barbour.

Don't Let a Cold Settle on Your Lungs

Many cases of Lung Trouble can be traced directly to a severe cold which has been neglected, and which, as a result, has affected the lungs. If you have a persistent cough or cold, take warning before it is too late. Eckman's Alterative is most beneficial in such cases and has been the means of completely restoring to health many persons who had serious lung trouble. Read of this case:—

Pleasantville, N. J.

"Gentlemen: During the winter of 1911 I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. The doctor pronounced it lung trouble. I tried nearly every preparation without any result and kept getting worse. Eckman's Alterative was recommended to me and I commenced using it as a last resort. The first bottle seemed to give no relief; in fact, I seemed to feel worse, but I kept on using the medicine and found out the first bottle had really started me on the road to recovery by loosening the mucus and making me expectorate freely. After using the medicine for some time my cough ceased, I gained flesh and today I am a well man."

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in rebuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

There is no other place in Washington or vicinity where these distinctive and elegant things may be obtained, because they are limited to us for distribution.

Just two years ago we brought to Washington our first importations and selections of Liberty things, and they were received with such enthusiasm and approval that we have had to greatly increase our assortments—in fact, they are more than double the original quantities.

Every article bears the distinguishing mark of Liberty originality—whether it be the pattern and coloring of the soft silken fabrics, a dainty perfume jar, a beautiful garment, an odd toy or an exquisite piece of pottery there is nothing that can equal or approach them.

DESPERATE FIGHTING

Paris, Nov. 10—The German at- ks on the line from Ypres to the are more violent even than those cted against the coast and the sages of the Yser. It is the British bear the brunt of these on- ghts.

many places their linec have be- e so thin says an officer who been in that region during the t fortnight that only by showing tinacy worthy of the traditions of terloo are they able to hold their und. Their losses in officers have terrible. One battalion of foot rds went into action commanded a noncommissioned officer. Certain alry regiments have lost half their ctive strength.

Occasionally, according to this offi- , the Germans by surprise capture e of their trenches but by vigor- counter attacks the British not y regain these, but win fresh ound. The Indian troops continue to r themselves magnificently despite rmous losses. They have proven mselves the equal of any other ops, both in defending the trenches in attacking positions.

Compared with the German los- , the officer continues, those of the es appear almost insignificant.

After night attacks 600 German d he says, often are found before ingle allies' trench. Recently ac- ding to this officer, a British bat- ion caught a German brigade in e formation and slaughtered 4,000 its men in a few minutes.

The fight rages with the greatest ensity south of Ypres, on the Menin d, the Ypres Canal, the Lys, and plateau crossed by the road from res to Armentieres. Here the of- sive by the allies has been met by lent counter attacks delivered by German active army corps just ought into Flanders, supported by concentrated fire of a great num- of massed batteries.

The Germans, so far, are said to ve achieved nothing more than tem- rary checks, and that slowly but ely the allies creep forward.

AT WASHINGTON THEATRES

Last Night's Performances Attract Large Audiences.

Poli's—"The Conspiracy."

A crime play in which the criminals do not appear until the last half of the last act; a white slave play in which the subject is treated in such a way as not to offend the most fastidious; a melodrama with more laughs than the usual farce comedy; a play of novel situations and unexpected developments—that, in brief, is "The Conspiracy," a "police detective comedy in three acts by John Emerson and Robert Baker," which the Poli Players staged yesterday.

"The Conspiracy" was written when the vogue of the white slave theme was at its height, but this objectionable motif is introduced in such manner as to make it subordinate to the primary interest of the piece—the work of a writer of dimenavel detective stories in unraveling a murder in a fashionable hotel. There is nothing of "The Lure," in "The Conspiracy." It is a clean as it is thrilling, and the authors have hit upon a really novel idea and evolved a new type of detective in Winthrop Clavering, who makes a living by fictionizing the unsolved mysteries of New York's police blotter. The scene in Clavering's plot laboratory when he deduces by the aid of the perfumed handkerchief that the girl he took from "The Refuge," is to be his stenographer is the same who committed the Morton murder is one of the most gripping in modern melodrama. It comes close to disproving the old adage concerning the lack of novelty under the sun.

The Pli players handled the drama most effectively.

Gayety—"The Winning Widows."

"The Winning Widows," a burletta by Ben Holmes, is the attraction at the Gayety this week. The piece is well named, for the "widows," and there are three of them, are winning, each and all. They represent various types of beauty, and they can sing and dance. Two of them—Emelie Benner and Leona Fox—are feminine bassos, and they give several subellar solos. The other one, Blanche Benson, is a real soprano, and she can dance beautifully. Then there is another trio—Valerie Sheahan, Josephine Young, and Clara Soule—from the chorus of a Broadway success, but who pose as Dennis' grandchildren (a suberftuge which is penetrated by the audience), who are lively and gay and add vastly to the entertainment. Ben Holmes, the author; Mark Hart, and J. Dunn have the three principal male roles, and all of them are good. The chorus is composed of a handsome and active bunch of girls, who seem to take an interest in their work. Their costumes are beautiful, and they know how to wear them.

AFIRE NEAR THE CAPES

Steamer Has on Board Eight Hundred Horses for Allied Armies

Baltimore, Nov. 10—The British steamer Rembrandt, which left this port Sunday morning for St. Nazairre France, laden with 800 horses for the army of the Allies; barbed wire and other war materials, was afire yesterday off the Virginia Capes and is now speeding toward Hampton Roads The blaze is now under control and confined below decks.

The steamship Rembrandt was probably 200 miles off the Capes when the fire was discovered according to dispatches from the wireless station at Sayville, Long Island. An S. O. S. call was sent out by the ship's operator yesterday shortly before noon. Operators at Sayville were in constant communication with the burning ship's master for several hours and the messages they received up until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon were to the effect that grave danger threatened the vessel. The horses were restless from the heat and the blaze was spreading.

The Robert Ramsay Company, local agents for the Rembrandt, were relieved last night however, when they received a relayed message stating that the fire had been gotten under control and the ship, though damaged to some extent was making all speed toward the Capes and would likely seek haven in Hampton Roads.

LARGER INCOME AND GREATER EXPENDITURE.

The Richmond Evening Journal in commenting upon the increase receipts of the State treasury says:

"Figures just compiled in the office of the State Auditor of Public Accounts show that the State will collect this year $190,747.11 more in taxes than was collected in 1913. The increase comes from every source of taxation, and is shown in detail in another column. The figures are causing joy in the hearts of officials who say it is due in chief part to increased efficiency of assessors who have not allowed much property to escape taxation as in former years.

"We do not know that we are disposed to be specially joyful over the increase. The money simply will go into the treasury of the State and will be spent by the end of the fiscal year during which it is available. Nobody's taxes will be lowered. Probably several new objects of expenditure will be discovered or created. We shall expect a considerable addition to the number of officeholders as a direct result of the increased income. The efficiency of our tax assessors is a credit to that body of officials, but we are not shown wherein their activity in finding new income is specially beneficial to the state at large. The larger the income the greater the expenditure. If the State's expenditures always were for wise purposes the situation would be different.

"Increase income should not mean profligacy in expenditure. It is very apt to mean just that. The average taxpayer who does not evade any of his obligations to support the government is not particularly interested in seeing that his neighbor pays his full share for the simple reason that the taxpayers know that taxes will not be lighter by reason of everybody paying in full.

"It is well that every citizen should discharge fully his obligations to the government. He should be compelled to pay every penny of tax assessed against him.

"But we confess to growing tired of so much talk to getting more revenue from the people and so little talk of economizing in expenditure of the money paid in.

"Will the increased revenue the State receives this year cause a surplus in the treasury? It will not.

"Will the inrease in income result in more rapid redemption of the State's bond, and extinction of the State debt? It will not.

"Will it result in reduction of the burdens of taxation upon a single citizen of the Commonwealth? It will not.

"Whyfore, then, rejoice at the increase revenue? The simple fact that we shall have more money to spend is not sufficient. If we were assured that it would cause us to pay our debts more rapidly, or lessen our tax burdens, the situation would be different. Assurance that the money would be spent wisely would be sufficient to fill our hearts with joy. In the absence of such assurances we simply can congratulate Auditor Moore and the tax assessors of Virginia upon their efficiency in office."

the following comparisons between assessed values in 1911 and 1914 are given.:

Tangible, 1914	$108,472,447
Tangible, 1911	87,779,794
Increase	$ 20,692,653
Intagible, 1914	$157,138,100
Intagible, 1911	102,680,897
Increase	$ 54,457,203
1914	$19,346,512
1912	10,267,820
Increase	$9,078,692

The comparison with respect to income is made for the year 1912 and 1914 instead of for the year 1911 and 1914, because in 1911 the taxpayer was allowed an exemption of $1,000 whereas in both 1912 and 1914 he was allowed to deduct $2,000. The value of income assessed is nearly doubled.

1914	$548,621,793
1911	516,416,517
Increase	$32,205,276

Total increase in three years of assessed values for taxation, $116,433,824.

The General says:

A well-satisfied customer is seldom lost. He will come back to the same house of business which has given him satisfaction and service before. The next time you are in the market for roofing remember—

Certain-teed

Quality Certified Roofing Durability Guaranteed

—has won its way to the front because customers who have covered one building with Certain-teed want it for other buildings.

They know by experience that Certain-teed is the highest quality roofing possible to buy and they know it is reasonable in price.

PRICE MAINTENANCE.

Its Necessity to Aid Consumer.

Many big industries engaged in national trade have often in the past done openly what the small concerns in their limited fields have done secretly—varied prices according to the degree of competition at different times and places. Their object has been to secure the highest price to be had, irrespective of whether the buyer was held up or not.

The principle of selling goods at a close margin at one place to meet or to kill competition, and charging a high price, to make up for it, where little or no competition exists, is economically wrong and unfair to the buyer. Every article offered for sale should have a uniform price plainly marked upon it.

Manufacturers will then have to see that the price of their goods is a reasonable one, so they will sell, and at the same time they will provide enough profit to pay the jobber and dealer fairly for handling the goods at a uniform price. This will inspire confidence in the consumer, because he will know the price can not be cut and must, therefore, be a reasonable one to permit the goods to sell. He will buy such goods in preference to a small selling article sold at exaggerated profits.

Everybody will benefit from price maintenance in this way. It will protect the manufacturer who has built up well-known brands, also the newcomer who is seeking to do so. Distributors will be protected in handling it at a fair profit, and they will not be forced, through fear of cut-throat competition, to build up their own private brands at much expense.

When you buy Certain-teed you have our real guarantee that it will last at least five years for 1-ply, ten years for 2-ply and fifteen years for 3-ply, and this guarantee is backed by the world's largest roofing mills.

There is a dealer in your city or town who handles Certain-teed products. He will be glad to give you information and prices.

FIGHT DUEL IN WATER

Belgian Ship Captain Challenges German to Battle With Knives

Since the opening of hostilities Belgian and German steamers have anchored side by side in the port of Valentia.

A Belgian captain received a letter from his brother, a soldier in the Belgian army, saying that German soldiers entering their village had committed abominable acts and that the captain's wife and two daughters were among the victims. The captain's anger was aroused and was increased by jeers and challenges from a German crew. Unable to take on the whole crew, the Belgian captain challenged a German sailor who was the ringleader and the challenge was accepted.

Th German jumped into the sea with a knife between his teeth, The Belgian jumped into the water a dagger in his hand, and the struggle had begun to be terrible when a harbor pilot in a boat reached the men and succeeded in separating them. Both wore wounded and the pilot compelled them to return to their ships, both shouting menaces.

An enormous crowd watched the duel from the quay. The port authorities have separated the ships to prevent a recurrence of the trouble.

That Germany soon will have to reckon with vast forces of men that are coming in a constant stream to the defense of the empire from the British dominions was asserted by Earl Kitchener, Secretary for War, at the inaugural banquet last night in Guildhall of the new lord mayor of London. Lord Kitchener's speech was delivered amid scenes of extraordinary enthusiasm.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Noyes, widow of Crosby S. Noyes, late editor of the Washington Evening Star, died last evening at the residence of her son, Theodore W. Noyes, in that city. Mrs. Noyes was in her eigthy-seventh year.

said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Says the Pilot:

"Nosing a big stern wheeler along a muddy river with sandbars reaching up to grab her—that's when you need real steadiness. When there's nothing but your judgment between your boat and a shoal, take a chew of PICNIC TWIST."

In every convenient twist of PICNIC you'll find the true tobacco uplift without the letdown that comes from dark, heavy, rank tobacco. PICNIC TWIST is a light colored, soft twist of the mild, mellow parts of the leaf.

Men accustomed to "strong" tobacco will be surprised how much they can chew of this mellow twist with its sweet, lasting taste.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient. "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. E. RICHARDSON frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

CONDITIONS IN INDIA

Unrest Reported Among Vast Mohammedan Population.

London, Nov. 10—Expert analysis of the military situation, showing that the German armies were in serious straits in the eastern war theater and had been unable to accomplish their chief aim in the west—the defeat of France—are overshadowed in interest by rumor that unrest had developed among the vast Mohammedan population of India.

Through official England attempts to minimize the danger of the situation in India, it is admitted that the call of a "holy war" issued by the head of the Mohammedans, has had its effect on the people of India, the chief British dependency.

The Hindoo agitators, too, have taken this opportunity to call upon their followers to throw off the British yoke. For many years Hindoo leaders have conducted an organized campaign for the independence of India. They have been sternly dealt with by the English authorities, but, neverless their propogonda has spread until millions of followers of the movement have been gained.

There is no doubt that Hindoo nationalists are enrolled in the native army, and one source of danger has been removed from India by bringing part of these forces to France. The Indian native army consist of 160,000 men. Only 70,000 have been taken to France. This leaves 91,000 in India.

Against these England has 75,897 men of all ranks. The British forces in India are kept on a war footing at all times.

British officials say the English regulars would be able to cope with any situation that might develop.

ORDER FOR SUBMARINES

To Be Built By Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

Boston, Nov. 10—An order for the immediate construction of 20 submarines has been placed with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation of Quincy, It has been learned officials of the plant refused information as to the identity of the power for which the submarines are intended. One officer of the corporation said the order would amount to about $10,000,000.

The order came to Quincy through the officers of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, at South Betlehem, Pa.

The submarines are not to be turned out as completed vessels, but as finishd sections, which can easily be assembled.

It was learned that the Betlehem Steel Corporation has been awarded contracts for the construction of transports and supply ships through the same source that contracts for the submarines.

President Joseph W. Powell of the Fore River Corporation is in Washington awaiting the actual singing of the contracts for the submarines, which is expected to take place today.

WOMAN DESERTS FAMILY.

Loves Dogs And Horses More Than Husband And Little Ones.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 10—Herbert W. Knight, special master in chancery at Newark, has advised granting a divorce to William Marcus, Jr., of Montclair, son and partner of a wealthy jeweler of New York City.

The wife from whom the divorce is advised is Mrs. Dorothy Cooksey Marcus, daughter of a wealthy Californian. The couple were married in June, 1908. In July, 1912, Mrs. Marcus, during her husband's absence in New York, left home.

She left a note in which she said she was going away to go to her own way, that she had ceased to love her husband and children, that she did not consider herself morally bound to care for the children because they had been forced upon her and that she loved her horses and dogs better than anything else.

Mrs. Marcus put in no defense. She has, however, filed action to secure control of the two little girls, Linda, aged 5, and Jane, aged 3 years.

In the petition for an order giving her the custody of the girls she says the action is brought not by her own will, but on the advice of her lawyer.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
